

The New Geopolitics of Gas

Lecture with energy expert, Dr. Agnia Grigas

In her critically acclaimed book The New Geopolitics of Natural Gas, Dr. Agnia Grigas argues that we are in the midst of an energy revolution. How does this new reality influence the strategic relations amongst the United States, the European Union, Russia and China?

In the near future, Moscow's political influence will erode as Russian shares in its traditional markets such as Poland and the Baltic States will fall. Concurrently, the European Union is negotiating Nord Stream II, and the United States will enjoy opportunities, but also face challenges in leveraging its newfound energy clout. How will that reshape relations with European states, and rising Asian powers?

The Centre for Military Studies has the pleasure to host a lecture with Dr. Agnia Grigas, who will address these topics. Dr. Grigas is an energy and political risk expert, and has extensive experience both within the public and private sector.

Lecturer

Dr. Agnia Grigas, Nonresident Senior Fellow, Atlantic Council, Washington D.C.

Moderator

Dr. Kristian Søby Kristensen, Deputy Director, Centre for Military Studies

Time and Venue

Wednesday 28 February, 13:30-15:00
CSS, Øster Farimagsgade 5, room 2.0.63

Register here: <http://cms.polsci.ku.dk/events>, no later than Tuesday 27 February.